Question related to ☐ PPE Regulation ☒ EN/prEN: All Standards ☐ Other:

Article: Annex: Clause:

Key words: Referencing standards, product marking

Question:

If a product does not fulfil all requirements of a standard, is it allowed to mark a PPE with the wording “in reference to std. XXX” or a similar expression combined with the restriction?

Solution:

No. Marking with the standard number shall not be allowed on the product and on the packaging.

This can mislead the user.

The information for use may give a reference to the standard with proper explanation of the restrictions.
